

Chef Jeff Massey Lands a Spot on Prestigious “40 Foodies Under 40” List

Jeff Massey, Executive Chef and co-owner of Abbotsford business, restaurant 62, has been named in the prestigious “Top 40 Foodies Under 40” list for 2011. The annual listing published by Western Living Magazine ranks Chef Jeff among Western Canada’s top restauranteurs under the age of forty.

“It’s a great honour to be chosen for the 2011 list, said Chef Jeff Massey. “I’ve followed this list of industry who’s-whos since its inception and I’m so proud to be a part of this year’s distinguished group.”

A graduate of Dubrulles Hotel and Culinary Institute, Jeff has worked at top Vancouver restaurants like Ciopinno’s Mediterranean Grill, Global Grill and Satay Bar and Coast. In 2006, he relocated to the Fraser Valley and soon became the Executive Chef and part owner of restaurant 62. Since joining forces with the restaurant he has worked hard to create regionally inspired menus that stay true to the ingredients and appeal to his restaurant’s sophisticated and loyal patrons. His philosophy has always been to create and maintain a menu where the food is locally inspired, ingredient driven, and above all else, simple, clean and delicious.

The restaurant, which is co-owned by Executive Chef Jeff Massey, Sommelier, Eric Ferris, and General Manager, Alicia Bodaly, is unrivalled for its innovative regional menu, extensive wine selection, contemporary ambience and impeccable service; a must-visit establishment for food-lovers in Abbotsford.

Chef Jeff Massey has been cooking and creating original recipes for as long as he can remember; a passion inspired by his mother’s innovation and creativity with ingredients in the family kitchen.